Public consultation on the future Namur-Hippodrome area

What is your vision for the future Namur-Hippodrome area?

The City of Montréal wants to redevelop the site of the old hippodrome and the area surrounding the Namur metro station. It plans to transform them into a full, inclusive and carbon-neutral living environment, relying on active and public transportation. The area could include as many as 6000 housing units.

The consultation will make it possible to better understand the expectations and needs of citizens and local players in order to develop a common vision for the future neighbourhood.
