

Hi,

When I bought my condo, (Noca phase 1, 6th floor), I was told that the building that would be built in front of us, would be exactly as high as the current red and yellow "batir mon quartier" building right now. This was told to us by the people at "batir mon quartier" and Noca. This was a HUGE deciding factor in buying my condo and weighed heavy on the decision on choosing this condo unit, facing downtown.

I'm now being told, that the building in front (School and Logement mixte) will be an 8 floor building, not different from the building originally intended. What should have been done is respect the height that the original building was supposed to be (6 floors) and have the school on the east side of the lot and the apartment complex on the east side at a maximum height that was originally intended for that lot.

After speaking with many residents in my building (Noca), we are many people with the same opinions, some that I see wrote here as well.

Thanks,

Justin Zaccaro
