

The following is a list of 4 interventions that I think would make an enormous difference to the Wellington Basin area, both immediately and long into the future.

1). Remove the current Wellington Bridge.

2). Rebuild the Wellington Tunnel. Similar to the Atwater tunnel, which performs well for traffic and allows the canal to exist calmly above it.

3). Add 2 bridges connecting Seminaire and Rioux across the canal. Regular street bridges. Wide enough for 2 lanes of local traffic and bikes. Similar to Pont Charlevoix is all that would be necessary.

4). Reopen the entire wellington basin. Restore its historic industrial scale. Think of it as an iconic park with water.
